

JINDEX Status Report

Prepared by Doug Mah, Policy Manager, DIS, (360) 902-3574, DougM@dis.wa.gov

Presenters

Cammy Webster, Department of Information Services

John Howe, Department of Information Services

Scott Bream, Department of information Services

Purpose of Appearance

Provide a status report on the Justice Information Network Data Exchange (JINDEX) project. JINDEX is a message broker located at the Department of Information Services that facilitates interagency communication. Project managers are preparing to validate JINDEX with King and Yakima County. Users will be able to issue requests for case and criminal history information from State repositories.

The presentation will update the Board on the installation and implementation deliverables and the status of the ID of possible match query and a consolidated criminal history query development.

Previous Justice Information Network Board Appearances

March 15, 2005

It was reported that the Baseline Requirements deliverable was finalized and reviewed by the Technical Advisory Group. The document expands on the requirements outlined in the Customer Requirements Report. A Design Document deliverable will follow. The Baseline Requirements document contained measurements for Critical Success Factors and a clear outline of what is to be delivered during the implementation phase.

April 20, 2003:

It was reported that the first draft of the Design Document was received and circulated to the Technical Advisory Group. An overview of the architecture and service to be deployed was provided. Hardware and software was received by the Department of Information Services and installation would begin upon completion of the design work.

May 17, 2005:

The Board received an update on the JINDEX Design Document and implementation plan.
